WINNING FIGHT ON TUBERCULOSIS

Statistician Wilbur Shows By Returns, Death Rate Is Falling Off

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The great fight against tuberculosis is being won, according to Chief Statistician Cressey L. Wilbur of the Division of Statistics, United States Census Bureau. In a bulletin issued today based on the annual returns of deaths from the death registration area of the United States, he says:

"It is probable that the great attention that has been given to this disease through the International Congress on Tuberculosis held at Washington in 1908 and the organization of many State and local societies has already begun to have its effect on the mortality from that disease and a continued decline in the death rate from it from year to year may be expected."

PELLAGRA SPREADING.

"A disease of increasing importance according to the returns is pellagra from which twenty-three deaths were returned in 1908, but as most of the deaths from this occur in the South from whom no records are received this figure does not represent the mortality from this cause."

"Among the rare diseases, small-pox caused ninety-two deaths, plague, 3, yellow fever, 2, leprosy, 21, and rabies or hydrocephalus, 82."

DEATH RATE LOWER.

The total number of deaths from all forms of tuberculosis in 1908 was 72,389, exceeding those of any previous year of registration, but the death rate per one hundred thousand for 1908 is considerably less than that for 1907. In all registration States the death from tuberculosis showed a decline except in Colorado, Rhode Island and Vermont.

MARY NORMAN as the "Chicago Girt" at Oakland Orpheum

Everyone who has seen Mary Norman in her caricatures of society women at the Orpheum this week asks: "Where did she see the types she depicts?" Miss Norman, or rather Mrs. Norman Jacobs, laughed when asked this question. "Do you know?," she said, "everyone puts that question to me as soon as I speak. Tell you the truth, my types are composite ones. They are built up piece by piece from mere fragments. My New York girl is the only exception, and I have in mind a picture of a real New York girl. As she left I followed, took a cab and ordered the driver to follow her carriage. I stuck at her side all morning and wrote down the names of her as soon as I saw them. My Boston girl I worked out by degrees. One day I met a young woman wearing noseglasses, a severely plain hat and a striped coat. She had a Boston accent like a Boston girl's appearance. Then I met another very volatile young woman at an afternoon conversation at the home of a very wealthy citizen who had his home in the intellectual circles of Boston. There were several other girls there, and I took the peculiarities of each to make a representative—or exaggerated version of them that convulsed her hearers." Then she began to entertain on the lecture platform, and won some Western farm girls, who seemed just as up to date as the baby carriage and mudpie. They were confined to two-baby and baby's father. But the baby was taken away and the mother turned away in the stage. Her name is Mary Come, her husband's Norman Jacobs. She has her own and her husband's first names for her stage name.

BODY OF DR. KAHN IS LAID TO REST

Fraternal Organization Pays Touching Tribute to Dead Physician

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Escorted by his fraternal brethren of the District Grand Lodge No. 7, L. O. O. B., Dr. S. S. Kahn, one of the best known physicians of this city, was laid in his last resting place at the Home of Peace cemetery in San Mateo county, this afternoon.

After a long illness in Colorado the doctor died on Monday, and it was decided to bring the body to this city for burial. The services were held from the house, and were attended only by immediate friends. The funeral car left the Third and Townsend streets depot at 11:30 a. m., and the last services for the dead were said at the grave.

TACTLESS TRADESMAN LAUGHS; SWALLOWS MOUTHFUL OF TACKS

Frank Perry resides at 1065 Ninth avenue and follows the trade of a window-shade hanger. While at work on a job late yesterday afternoon he was tactless enough to guffaw at some joke a fellow-workman cracked and in doing so swallowed a mouthful of tacks he was using to attach curtains to spring rolls. Perry hurried away to the Receiving Hospital in great terror, but Steward Platoff had no qualms with which to seize the tacks or coat them back—not even a magnet. He told Perry the best thing he could do was to go to a specialist in such cases and Perry went. He is no longer tactless.

WHEN you see a woman with a strikingly stylish figure and ask yourself—"How does she get that effect?" it's safe to answer the question with one word,—"Kabo."

You can get more style and comfort effect with a Kabo Corset than with any other. Kabo styles are the latest styles, always.

If you are stout, a Kabo Form Reducing Corset will give you long, graceful lines and will be comfortable. It is the only form reducing corset that is adjusted easily and comfortably after it is on.

STICKS HEAD OUT; IS HIT BY CAR

Workman Dragged Many Feet—Narrowly Escapes Death Beneath Wheels

James D. Kenelly, employed as a teamster at the camp of the Hutchinson Construction Company at Alameda, was badly injured in an electric car accident this morning about 9:30 o'clock on Broadway near Sixth street.

He boarded an outbound Alameda car and while settling himself in an exposed seat of the inner forward section threw his head out too far and was struck by a passing Telegraph Avenue car. He was knocked out of his seat and fell between the tracks.

It is a miracle that Kenelly was not ground to pulp and instantly killed. It was he was dragged by the Telegraph car for nearly fifteen feet, sustaining a number of ugly lacerations of the scalp, several painful contusions of the head, a fracture of the fourth rib on the left side, and other bruises and contusions, together with possible internal injuries. He was cared for at the receiving hospital.

Kenelly is 47 years of age and served with the Federal troops in the Philippines as a civilian master of a mule pack train.

THREE TOWNS TO PLAN JOINT SEWER SYSTEM

NILES, Oct. 21.—Niles, Centerville and Newark are planning for a joint sanitary sewer system, an eight-mile sewer to the rear. A bond election for the building of the sewer, the expense to be borne jointly by each of the three towns, will be discussed at a joint meeting of representatives in Centerville on November 1.

It is estimated that the cost of the new sanitary system will cost in the vicinity of $125,000 and will be of immediate benefit to the three towns which are building a distinct sewer system without proper sewage facilities and it is said that citizens in all three towns will vote favorably upon the bond proposition.

'GET THE HOOK,' IS SLOGAN OF GEORGIA UNIVERSITY FACULTY

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 21.—The prevalence of the hook worm, which certain scientists have ascribed as the cause of laziness among the students of the University of Georgia, is causing the faculty alarm and a campaign has been determined upon to eradicate the parasite.

Dr. J. C. Bloomfield, president of the city Board of Health, has been examining the students at the request of the faculty and he reports that at least 30 per cent are suffering from the hook worm. Many examined, Dr. Bloomfield states, are members of wealthy families, which, in his opinion, are guilty of the belief that the parasite is prevalent only among the poorer classes.

Some afflicted with the hook worm are members of the university football team and the physicians say the hook worm undoubtedly is responsible for the poor showing the team is making, as one effect of the parasite is extreme physical sluggishness.

Since Dr. Bloomfield's report the faculty has been looking into the class standing of those afflicted and in every case it is lower than those free from the hook worm.

Nada Moret Charms Devotees of Theater With Comedy and Pathos

NADA MORET, Refined Versatile Entertainer, at the Bell.

MISS NADA MORET, versatile entertainer and character artist, has made many friends through her excellent portrayal of various types at the Bell Theatre this week and in the neat and finished manner in which she works throughout her entire act. Her opening recitation song in the pathetic strain, followed by a screaming characterization of an actress who presumably never made good. Thus she shows the gamut from pathos to comedy and each play upon the emotions is executed with the finished touch of the true artist.

Isabel Butler and Edward Bassett stir up considerable enthusiasm with their beautiful exhibition of ice skating. These two are the champions of the world in all round ice skating and at the Bell this week upon a huge block of ice, especially frozen every day, they execute the most beautiful and artistic feats imaginable. To the spectator who has lived in the Eastern States there will be memories of the past in this very interesting act. Miss Butler is the daring young woman who rode in the auto that performed the "Dip to Death" with the Barnum & Bailey shows recently. As an ice skater she is without question the personification of grace.

INTELLIGENT BIRDS.

Irma Obermann's trained cockatoos are wonderfully trained birds and are able to perform almost any trick of which such intelligent animals as dogs and horses are capable of. Ada Woolcott and Company have a laughable concoction in the sketch entitled "The Fisherman's Luck."

A scream all the way through is the number furnished by Maudie & Greet.

It is a combination of a whole lot of good legitimate comedy and is also semi-acrobatic and musical. It is a surprise all the way through and every surprise is the true artist.

Isabel Butler and Edward Bassett stir up considerable enthusiasm with their beautiful exhibition of ice skating. These two are the champions of the world in all round ice skating and at the Bell this week upon a huge block of ice, especially frozen every day, they execute the most beautiful and artistic feats imaginable. To the spectator who has lived in the Eastern States there will be memories of the past in this very interesting act. Miss Butler is the daring young woman who rode in the auto that performed the "Dip to Death" with the Barnum & Bailey shows recently. As an

"Cupid, the Cow Punch," Plays to Crowded Houses During Initial Production

"Cupid, the Cow Punch," a drama of western life, the second offering to the stage by Richard Walton Tully, a California newspaper man who has achieved considerable distinction as co-author of "The Rose of the Ranch," is playing to crowded houses night at the Liberty.

It is a combination of a whole lot of good legitimate comedy and is also semi-acrobatic and musical. It is a surprise all the way through and every surprise is the true artist.

Next week the famous Bigo, the Gypsy violinist who has created such a furor in San Francisco and in fact all over the world in every city in which he has appeared, comes to the Bell. His liaison with the Princess Chimay is still fresh in the public mind and due no doubt equally to this publicity, as well as his masterful playing of the violin in the vaudeville field.

The play is not a record breaker—there is too little originality in the plot—but—and the extenuating fact lies fair to save the day—the characters are refreshingly drawn, at least half a dozen of them offering the opportunity for the creation of a decisive impression, not often afforded by latter day productions.

If Tully can again avail himself of the master hand of Eddie Belasco, the experienced producer who brought brilliancy of mediocrity in the author's first effort, "Jaunta of San Juan," which had almost died of its own weakness, due not to lack of ideas so much as the blasting air of amateurishness which also characterizes the present production, the second offering may yet achieve the same popularity accorded the first.

BREEZY ATMOSPHERE.

There is a breezy breath of the West blowing through the newspaperman's play; a fresh, unsophisticated drama which is an excellent foundation for dramatic work. As in "Cupid, the Cow Punch" he has rather ruthlessly drawn a bit here and there from several times worn plots, he has portrayed the land of the roving herd with a clarity of insight not to be denied.

In the cowboy he has given a logical character, full of the temperament of the west, but it lacks strength. "Cupid" is lovable but—well, it's pretty hard to imagine him taking the leadership of "men that is men," such as Tully has endeavored to make his group of plainsmen who form a background for the hero. The failure to send the part home may be due in a large part to Sidney Ayres, who handles it too gingerly for effect. Men who ride across the mesa with the sunset in their eyes and a bigger world than most of us know stretching around them in an unbroken line; men who face the bigger issues of life with the cast of players here believe this disappearance may have some connection with two mysterious murders committed recently in this city. In each case the body of a man was found decapitated and otherwise mutilated beyond recognition. The theory of the police is that the victim were revolutionists whose good faith had been suspected by their associates.

The play is replete with melodrama and the play of the clever character parts—trials staged in a long while is Molly Brown, the self-appointed head waitress of "San Fran" eating house, as interpreted by Miss Jessie Sackey.

Carefully judged, it is difficult to predict a future for the drama. It may improve, the possibilities are there, but it will require a lot of doing over.

MAY FURNISH CLEW TO MURDER MYSTERIES

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 2.—The police have received a dispatch from Paris informing them of the disappearance from that city of one of the principal members of the Central Committee of Social Revolutionists.

The police here believe this disappearance may have some connection with two mysterious murders committed recently in this city. In each case the body of a man was found decapitated and otherwise mutilated beyond recognition. The theory of the police is that the victim were revolutionists whose good faith had been suspected by their associates.

If a giddy woman could hear what is said about her behind her back it would knock some of the giddiness out of her.

SUFFRAGETTES TO HOLD BIG SOIREE

Out of Town Clubwomen to Be Guests of New Organization

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Portola visitors belonging to out-of-town women suffrage clubs and all other visitors favoring the movement are included in a sweeping invitation issued by a new organization, the Votes for Women Club, to attend a soiree Saturday from 3 to 6 p. m. in the ladies' reception room at the Portola Hotel. A musical program will be interwoven with discussion of the best means for accomplishing the aims of the new club, whose coming-out party will be supported and attended by many representatives from equal-suffrage organizations on both sides of the bay.

An operation, attempted as a last resort to save his life, caused the death yesterday in a Fruitvale sanitarium of William L. Gleason, probably the oldest comedian on the American stage, and close friend and companion during their lives of Joseph Jefferson, Edwin Booth, Lawrence Barrett, Edwin Forrest and many other famous stars of the stage in days past.

Gleason had been ill for several months and several days ago entered the sanitarium. A few days ago he was diagnosed of and in an attempt to stave off death, the operation was attempted. He failed to rally from the effects. At his bedside at the time of his death was his wife, Mina Crollius Gleason, also a famous character actor, and now a member of the Ye Liberty cast of players.

WITH JAMES O'NEIL.

Gleason became an actor in 1865, immediately after the close of the Civil War. His first stage debut was in Cincinnati when in company with James O'Neill he acted as a super in a big spectacular production. Gleason's rise was rapid and he was soon rated as one of the best comedians on the American stage. For several years he was engaged with the James MacCauley Stock company in Louisville, Ky. In the same company with him were Louis James, Edwin Booth, Mary Anderson and Edwin Forrest.

In later years he acted as stage director for the Grand Opera House, San Francisco. He was also stage director and business manager for Nance O'Neill. He became stage director of the Ye Liberty in 1894 and served in that position until 1906 when he went to Portland.

In company with Mrs. Gleason he returned from the northern city but a short time before he was taken ill.

KNOWN AS "DADDY."

To many theater patrons on the Pacific Coast Gleason was familiarly known as "Daddy," and gained prominence through his part in the leading roles of "David Harum," "Mr. Flipp" and "All on Account of Eliza."

Gleason was a cousin of Captain Henry Gleason of the San Francisco police department. Besides his wife he is survived by one son, who is an actor with a company now in the East. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon. The body will be cremated.

ONE HUNDRED VOTERS TO LOSE CITIZENSHIP

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 21.—Under a ruling received here from R. S. Cole, state referee examiner of the Census Bureau at Washington, one hundred Syrians in La Crosse will lose their citizenship while hundreds of other throughout the northwest will be affected.

The ruling is that Syrians, being of Asiatic origin are not "white persons" within the meaning of the law. Syrians have voted for years, and form an important colony. Most of them have taken out first papers.

INSPECTION OF MEAT SYSTEM IS BEST

Department of Agriculture Official Replies to Charges of Carelessness

MORE FOOD CONDEMNED THAN IN ANY COUNTRY

No Shirk of Duty and Inspection of Plants Is Most Thorough

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—"More meat is condemned as unfit for human food in the United States than in any other country. The fact may account, in a contributory way, for the present high prices of meat."

This statement was made today by a responsible official of the Department of Agriculture, in answer to charges made at the convention of the American Board of Health Association, now in session at Richmond, Va.

The chairman of the board, Mr. Clarence B. Crane of Kalamazoo, Mich., alleging that meat inspectors of the Bureau of Animal Industry, in many instances, were incompetent and careless.

"NO SHIRKING OF DUTY."

"A matter of fact," continued the department official, "no country in the world is so careful as the United States in the examination of meat intended to be sold to the public. Approximately there are 800 packing houses in the country, the output of which is inspected thoroughly by trained veterinary surgeons of the government. There are also three traveling inspectors who direct the work of the packing house inspectors with a view to seeing there is no carelessness and no shirking of duty."

NO SHIRKING OF DUTY

"The packers of the country millions of dollars not only in the construction and maintenance of their plants, a perfectly sanitary condition is also in the best of animals which are condemned by reason of disease."

"We know nothing here about Mrs. Crane's statement whatever they are and against whatever they may be directed, they will be investigated thoroughly; for only by such thorough inquiry will we be able to maintain the high standard of excellence of the American packing houses."

CORONER WILL PROBE YOUNG GIRL'S DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Coroner F. W. Leland has ordered an investigation into the mysterious death of a young woman whose name is unknown, and who died at St. Thomas Hospital yesterday morning.

The girl, who is but 18 years old, was taken from Franklin and Ellis streets to the instigator last night in a dying condition. She was examined by the coroner, but no cause can be assigned for her death. The victim of a criminal operation in this fact will be determined by an autopsy to be performed this afternoon.

POLITICS MUST BE ELIMINATED, IS CLAIM

RICHMOND, Oct. 21.—"Politics must be eliminated as a factor in the improvement of municipal or State health policies if the best interests of the public welfare are to be protected."

This was the opinion of the section of municipal health officers of the American Public Health Association in session here as expressed yesterday in a formal resolution which will be acted on by the convention before adjournment.

BIG GOLD PLATED STUDEBAKER CAR

Well Known Firm Has a Most Elaborate Automobile Show in Its Salesrooms

Gold plated and finished in the most elaborate style in which an automobile was ever turned out of a factory, a Studebaker landauette arrived in this city yesterday and is now displayed at the showrooms of the Studebaker Brothers, Market and Fremont streets, San Francisco, the center of interest of the individual automobile show which that concern is conducting during Portola week.

An idea of the elegance of the landauette may be obtained when it is briefly stated that all metal trimmings of the car are gold plated. This includes the two headlights, the side lights and the tall lamp, grease cups, hub caps, body handles, both inside and outside. The horn and tube are likewise plated, as are also the moldings on the running boards. The gear shift lever and the emergency brake lever are gold plated, as are the glass front, hood, hinges, handles and catches.

While the exterior of the car, on account of its grace of lines and elegance, suggests that it has been made according to an order from royalty, its interior is no less surprising in its handsomeness and refinement. It is upholstered in the cover shade of the finest broadcloth, with handsome coach lacings. The dome lights are of cut glass and are so arranged that when the electric switch is turned on the interior is flooded with bright light, in contrast to the ordinarily poorly lighted landauettes.

The motor is of 40 horsepower and is of the new Studebaker type, the "G-7." The body is painted blue and fine white stripes run all the way down the side of the car, and according to those who have seen it, it is the most elegant machine of its kind ever seen on this coast.

This is but one of the many cars that the Studebaker company is showing this week in its showroom at Mission and Fremont streets. The company has a most elaborate collection of cars. Most of them have been sold, but the owners very kindly left them on the showroom floor so that the company can show a full line of its models. There are over 26 cars exhibited. They represent the different types of the new G-7, 40's, the regular 30's, the E-M-F and the regular 30's.

PUBLIC CORDIALLY INVITED

The M. T. Minney Company invites the public to view the automobile races from Melrose Heights on Saturday. The Foothill Boulevard, which forms a part of the race course, reaches its highest point here for several miles and therefore offers a splendid opportunity for viewing the races.

A large number of people have expressed their desire of taking advantage of this invitation. A great deal of interest has been created by the Melrose Heights Guessing Contest, which will take place at Melrose Heights the morning of the races.

been calculated and so exact had been the painstaking and particular segregation of the committee that everything was beautifully fitted in its exact place and harmony was the watchword of the entire spectacle.

PREMENDOUS THROUG

Everywhere on the line of march the great throngs of sightseers cheered and yelled their appreciation of the showing made by their own particular favorites and on one division was disregarded in the general enthusiasm of the tremendous throng.

Led, as usual, by a squadron of police in charge of Chief of Police Cook, the procession was a military one to the last degree, even the non-soldiers and members of various fraternal organizations presenting a military aspect and in every manner showing the care with which they had planned to do something never before equaled in any city.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

The gay flags fluttering from the staffs on the buildings, and the beautiful costumes of the women who beamed down upon ten thousand windows, dressed finely with the bright color and jaunty uniforms which moved along.

The reviewing stands at Marshall Square and Union Square were replete with the dandies and distinguished visitors who were to pass cool judgment upon the parade, and their marked aplomb could not but show the day as well as San Francisco's own belief that never before had such a pageant presented itself.

STAY TO LAST.

Standing crushed among a horde of human beings for five hours to view a parade and remain to the last drum beat and military step upon the pavement was the routine of more than half of the sightseers who were forced to view the review on the platform.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—A jerking, jolting, jostling crowd, numbering, it is estimated, fully 60,000 people took possession of the principal streets of San Francisco this morning and took their places of obtaining good view points for the most part. Never before in the history of the city has such a joyous scene occurred throughout the city in its first attire, and eager for any fun which might add to their spirits assembled to watch the procession.

LOS ANGELES ELKS VISIT IN ALAMEDA

Drill Team Under Capt. J. L. Atkinson Pleased With Appearance of City

ALAMEDA, Oct. 21.—With their own band playing appropriate music, the Los Angeles Elks' drill team, composed of members from B. P. O. E., Los Angeles No. 99, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon and were entertained by the local lodge. The visitors are in command of Captain J. L. Atkinson and are eighty-five strong. They created a favorable impression in their olive drab uniforms trimmed with black braid, and their marching and evolutions were performed in a very workman-like manner.

After visiting the Elks' building they were entertained at luncheon by their brethren, and their wives from Los Angeles, who came to attend the Portola festival. They came to this city upon the invitation of the local lodge.

They were accompanied by 115 Elks and their wives from Los Angeles, who came to attend the Portola festival. They came to this city upon the invitation of the local lodge.

Captain Atkinson was very much impressed with the appearance of Alameda. He said: "Down in Los Angeles we knew Alameda as a small suburban town and this visit has opened our eyes. We were very much surprised to find that this city had fine public buildings and that the Elks were building such a magnificient structure."

"The most of us are making our first trip to this side of the bay and feel well repaid by the trip. Alameda has all the earmarks of an up-to-date modern city and it is one of the best I have visited for some time. Your streets especially interested us for they are the finest I have seen in many years."

Under the balconies and from the capitals of the pillars flowers of appropriate color were gracefully strung. The Norman Hall likewise was bedecked with festal colors; the decorative scheme being enhanced by bunches of red and yellow blossoms which were scattered carelessly upon the tables.

QUEEN VIRGINIA.

Queen Virginia, her robes looking fit to cover any monarch, was centered in the ballroom. The gown was a blue moire antique princess fitting and the skirt draped. Chiffon and gold lace with touches of white formed the bodice.

A band of bright Irish green velvet marked the bust line, and a girdle of the same velvet adorned in jewels and a heavy gold cord with diamond ornaments.

She wore a coronet of diamonds and pearls. The royal cap was of crimson velvet, white satin lined and bordered in gold.

Each of the royal garments swept the floor.

This cap was removed a few minutes after her entrance and when the band struck up Queen Virgilia whirled about in a circle.

The entire scene was international in its aspects. Women, some of the most beautiful in America, gowned in the attire of famous nello from following the entire world, and in their gowns the entire world was represented.

It was a gay scene, indeed, the colors of the handsome robes of the foreign guests presenting veritably a living rainbow.

ARMED GUARD.

Gold plates were conspicuously the order of the day.

Officers of the United States Army, and all of the navies represented wearing their imposing insignia upon their shoulders. The officers of marines from the British majesty's ships of war appeared in bright uniforms with gold trimmings. Italian, Japanese and Netherlands officers were full double-breasted coats, which were ornate with epaulettes and buttons, and the Japanese wearing short swords at their hips.

800 IN ATTENDANCE.

Full coats were worn also by the officers of the other armed forces.

The German and Great Britain and the United States were garbed in the well-known mess coats, the white shirts from the apparel of the naval incongruous with the brilliant uniforms.

With the arrival of Don Gaspar, who was attired in simple evening dress, and Queen Virgilia, the festivities began.

Where Oranges Ripen Earliest.

Every year, since orange-growing has been developed into an important and profitable industry in California, the northern and central counties have given indisputable proof of the fact that the fruit matures and ripens in them several weeks earlier than in the southern counties. This fact has in the past been carefully concealed by the boomers of the southland lest it might influence the tide of settlers from the Eastern States and elsewhere to their own disadvantage. Indeed, the Los Angeles orange shippers grew so bold that they entered the northern orange groves for the earlier output of the fruit and were detected a year or two ago surreptitiously shipping east in boxes bearing their own local brand Newcastle, Placer county, oranges, ripe and luscious, five or six weeks before the most advanced fruit in any of the orange groves of the southern counties was ready to pick and send to eastern markets. It developed on investigation that the same game was being played with other early fruits and vegetables produced in the Sacramento valley. The system gave Los Angeles false credit for the superiority of climate and horticultural capabilities possessed by the northern part of the State.

Twenty years ago or more the first oranges shipped east from any part of California went overland from Pleasant Valley in Solano county and from Butte and Placer counties. These shipments invariably antedated Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino and other southern orange-growing counties from one month to six weeks. For years Fresno and Tulare counties have, also, been moving their orange crops to eastern markets several weeks ahead of the southern counties. This year Sacramento county has come to the front as the first orange shipper of the season, the first carload of ripe and luscious fruit being dispatched east yesterday from Fair Oaks. This is at least one month in advance of the average annual first shipment from any part of the State. Facts of this character should be exploited abroad. The northern and central counties have allowed their light to be concealed under a bushel too long. It is time for a change and for this section of the State to utilize for its own benefit and promotion the credit which Los Angeles has unrightfully appropriated to boom its own interests abroad.

Novel Educational Courses.

Chicago's new woman superintendent of the public schools—Mrs. Ella Flagg Young—has suppressed some of the novelties in the educational course and introduced some of her own. One of them is a course of civics, called the "Chicago course," devoted to instruction in the life of the big city. With the opening of the new year the eighth grade pupils in the public schools will spend an hour a day studying Chicago, its history, industries, government, commerce, religious and social life and its philanthropies. The work will be done on what is known as the "laboratory plan," in which text books cut a minor figure, greater reliance being placed on results obtained from personal observation by the members of the classes during trips with their teachers through various parts of the city where the particular feature in the course under consideration is exemplified. The new course is thus officially announced:

"History—Explorations and settlements of the French in the old Northwest, George Rogers Clark's expedition, ordinance of 1787, creating the Northwest territory. Fort Dearborn and the war of 1812. Illinois as a State, its part in the Mexican and Civil wars, the world's fair."

"Geography—Advantages of Chicago's location, resources of Illinois and the Northwest, water ways, railroad development."

"Industries—The stockyards, rolling mills, agricultural implement manufacturing, machinery, electrical supplies, furniture, books, musical instruments, boots, shoes and clothing, industries in the neighborhood of each school."

"Social activities—Educational institutions, philanthropic enterprises, social settlements, hospitals, churches."

"Municipal and civil affairs—City government, the city hall, fire department, police department, health department, county government, State government, park systems, water supply, sewers, care of streets, transportation in the city, gas lighting, electric lighting, tunnels and subways, plans for the improvement of Chicago."

A "housekeeping" course has also been adopted for the benefit of young women wage-earners in the evening classes which are maintained in thirty-three of the school buildings, its purpose being to teach in a practical way economy in the domestic arts, thus fitting them to occupy the position of wives for moderate wage earners. Mrs. Young has been long regarded as one of the most original and successful teachers in the country. She has introduced so many important reforms in the public school system of Chicago that the eyes of the educational world have become focussed on it, and the school board is giving her free rein to carry out her practical ideas.

If the report of the opening of a productive oil well in the Buena Vista Lake district, Kern county, which comes from Bakersfield is authentic, it is a matter of the greatest importance to the industry in California, as the well is said to be located ten miles from the nearest productive oil field previously developed. The value of the new discovery lies chiefly in the enormous area it adds to the proved oil-bearing territory in the central part of the State.

Raising Mare Island's Status.

Recently the working force at the Mare Island Navy Yard has been receiving a thorough shaking up at the hands of Naval Constructor Holden A. Evans, the general manager. In the shaking up process there has been such a wide departure from long established custom that public curiosity has been excited. Among other changes was the dismissal of two old-time foremen and the transfer of a third from one machine shop to another without explanation. Men who have long held their jobs at the navy yard in the past through a real or imaginary political pull have been served without previous notice with a blue envelope, which, through long usage at Mare Island, has come to be recognized as the conveying agency of a discharge. Mechanics, on the other hand, who have not been long employed in the shops have been retained, in violation of all precedent and past traditions of the establishment.

The Vallejo Chronicle interviewed General Manager Evans and was surprised to learn that a complete change of policy in the conduct of the yard has taken place under his management. The naval constructor is merely putting the yard on a strict business basis. "I want results," is the terse and expressive way he defines the new policy. "I don't care," he said to his interviewer, "whether a man is a Democrat or a Republican, a Catholic or a Protestant, whether he has property or not, what I want is results, and to that end when a discharge comes the poorest mechanics are the ones I seek to eliminate."

Constructor Evans has adopted a system of keeping a cost sheet of all the work performed and this is compared with the cost sheet of doing the same character of work in private yards. The system revealed the fact that the cost of a casting turned out of the navy yard foundry was seven times greater than the cost of identically the same product turned out of a private foundry, and the General Manager reasonably concluded that he was not getting the proper results, so the foreman of that particular establishment was presented with a blue envelope. Another was treated the same way because he had got into a rut and could not adapt himself to modern conditions.

Under Constructor Evans' management the equipment of the machine shops is being brought up to date. Antiquated machinery, like incompetent mechanics, is being eliminated, and competent foremen who are not acquainted with the system of a modern up-to-date workshop are given a chance to acquire it by a special course of training in the shops which have been re-equipped. Of course, if such foremen do not come through with the goods, eventually they will no doubt receive the blue envelope treatment or be returned to the bench. The only results that will satisfy the naval constructor are those that will place the navy yard on an absolute equality with private yards in the quality and cost of the work turned out, and he will undoubtedly be backed up by public opinion.

Borough System of Government

So much discussion has arisen in Oakland in regard to the federation of the cities and districts of Alameda county under a borough system of government, that considerable inquiry is made as to the method of operating this form of municipal government, of which New York furnishes the chief and most successful example.

The borough system, as described by the Sacramento Bee, is a modification of the federal form of government. Under it the Mayor is the chief functionary and presides over the entire city. He is vested with absolute power of appointment and removal of all heads of city departments. Each of the boroughs has a President who appoints and removes at pleasure a Commissioner of Public Works and a Superintendent of Public Buildings for the borough. He is a member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and presides over all borough local Boards of Improvement.

In the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, which passes upon all city expenses, the President can bring forward and vote upon all plans for borough improvement as well as upon all plans affecting the whole city.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment is the central governing power of the city as far as finances and franchises are concerned. This Board consists of the Mayor, President of the Board of Aldermen and the Presidents of the boroughs. It is practically an upper house, the Board of Aldermen being the lower house.

The borough Presidents correspond to the City Council, except that they represent boroughs instead of wards. These officers and the Comptroller make up the Board of Estimate which practically control the destinies of the whole city, both politically and financially. The effect of the system is to give closer local self-government to the boroughs. The borough Presidents are elected by them and also the local borough Boards of Improvement, the controlling bodies of the boroughs.

Despite the vigilance of the German quarantine officers, the Russian cholera epidemic has evidently crossed the border into Prussia. Several isolated cases of cholera have been detected during the last three months and promptly quarantined. Koenigsberg reports this week two deaths from cholera in the Niedering, East Prussia, district, which proves conclusively that the dread plague has crossed the Russian border and that the Prussian health authorities will be compelled to adopt drastic remedies to stamp it out and prevent it from spreading.

PASSING PROBLEM

The statement of the Department of Commerce and Labor that only three thousand Japanese citizens entered the United States during the last fiscal year, the smallest number for any one year during the last ten years, shows that the Tokio government is getting results in its effort to reduce the number of Japanese who wish to come to this country. Industrial conditions in Japan are largely responsible for the policy now enforced by Japan. Labor is not as plentiful as conditions warrant. Some of the newer industries of the empire have been confronted by a vexing problem on account of inability to get labor, and the new demand for toilers of various kinds in Formosa and Korea and in the Chinese provinces of Manchuria, where the Japanese are furthering enterprises of considerable magnitude, has made the question of labor one of acute concern in both business and political circles.

So far as Japan is concerned, the "yellow peril" seems to be one of diminishing proportion, if it ever existed at all.

Citizens of Japan are now returning to Japan from America more rapidly than they are leaving Japan for America, and if present tendencies continue the problem, which for a while became one of serious concern on the Pacific Coast, will no longer be a disturbing factor in labor circles. The demand for labor in Japan is solving the problem, and thus economic conditions are adjusting an issue which might have pressed a serious diplomatic question upon the attention of both governments.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

TALES TOLD SECOND TIME

At the siege of Fredericksburg, when the confederates were enduring even more than their usual pangs of hunger, one of the southern skirmishing parties made a sudden raid on an unsuspecting federal brigade. After some interchange of firing the assailants rushed upon their disconcerted enemy. One emaciated Johnnie hurriedly emptied the knapsack of a prostrate soldier, and, straightening up, regardless of blades and bullets, waved his body above his head. "Charge 'em, boys, charge 'em!" he yelled. "They've got cheese!"

Mr. Cleveland used to tell a story of an old colored man who risked his life when out fishing to save a small boy of his own race. He was asked whether the boy was his own. "Oh, no, sah; he not my son." "Well, was he some relative, that you risked your life for him?" "No, sah; he no relative; no, sah." "Then why did you plunge in in that reckless way and fetch him out?" "Well, sah, the fact is, sah, that that boy had the bait."

On a recent Sunday the clergyman of a parish church in Kent was reading the notices for the week, and concluded by saying: "There will be christening next Sunday at 10:30." He then slowly walked to the pulpit. Suddenly, turning toward the congregation, he remarked in several tones: "Remember, Mrs. Tomlinson, I said 10:30. A year ago you were late, I believe."

Timely Topics

John H. Kidney, a civil war veteran in the State Soldiers' Home at Noroton, Connecticut, made a vow in 1886 that he would not cut his hair until a Democrat was elected President. Monday he appeared, minus the long, flowing locks that had been growing thirteen years. He said he had given up all hopes.

When out for a walk yesterday at dusk he was run down by a vehicle and injured about the head. He said he was sure the accident was due to his cutting his hair and breaking his vow.

Nineteen deaths from baseball have been reported from various parts of the country during the season just closed. The list of injuries runs into the hundreds.

Of the accidents which have proved fatal only one occurred here. This was the case of 8-year-old Nathan Moses, who was run over by a street car in front of his home while running after a ball in a street game on May 28.

Most of the victims who paid toll to the sport were children. Several were spectators struck by batted balls or hit by bats which flew from the hands of players.

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

Erot Goode Wright, beautiful wife of W. C. Wright, the Berkeley financier, and a society leader, who is suing her husband for divorce, told in court today that efforts had been made to intimidate her into withdrawing her suit and that two men had called at her house and had threatened to "blast her reputation into bits" unless she agreed to withdraw her divorce action and the charges against her husband.

The city council last night granted the Standard Oil Company a permit to store kerosene and gasoline in iron tanks on Cedar street in West Oakland. The permit was granted, despite the protests of property owners in the vicinity where it is proposed to erect the storage tanks.

Hazadian Coffin, founder and publisher of the Oakland Transcript, the first newspaper in Alameda county, died last night in Santa Rosa. Consumption was the cause of death.

The district attorney today filed an information against John H. Church Jr., charging him with perjury. His son, John H. Church Jr., is already under indictment for assault with a deadly weapon.

E. G. Cram is circulating a petition to have tenth street, between Franklin and Market streets, paved with bituminous rock.

It developed in Probate Court today that J. V. Woodworth, who was sent to the asylum several days ago, is possessed of an estate valued at $20,000 and that there are no relatives or other heirs to claim the property in the event Woodworth dies. In the event he should do so and no heirs develop in the interim the estate will revert to the State.

Work of Government Supply Committee

"The general supply committee, which was created by executive order of President Taft in May of this year, has already saved the government a tremendous lot of money, as I happen to know by personal experience," said Hugh B. McDonough, a prominent New York importer, at the Hotel Remond.

"I know personally of almost $200,000 that the department buying its own supplies, all the departments have a representative in the committee, which advertises for bids, lets contracts, tests articles submitted, and finally makes the awards. This eminently fair and business-like way of buying public supplies through competitive bidding ought to have been in force for years, and had it been Uncle Sam would have been better off by a good many millions."—Baltimore American.

Dr. W. H. Burke Goes Where Snakes May Disturb Him

One Dr. W. H. Burke has for some time been in the employ of the Anti-Saloon League of Alameda county. During his incumbency he has started prosecutions against several liquor dealers, and he was there with the evidence every time. But the doctor has been fired. It appears that in his excessive zeal to accumulate evidence against law-breaking keepers of blind pigs, speak easies and unlicensed saloons, edicated too much testimony, with the result that he came into court with a broad on him like a brewery. He took no chances, did Dr. Burke. When the evidence was before him he acted upon it. He put it where no one could get it away from him, save and except with a stomach pump.

The league was scandalized by his conduct and removed him. The directors declared they did not want convictions obtained at the expense of a bad man. It seems they preferred to let some other fellow do the drinking. So, they have sent Burke down to Arizona where every man boils his own mescal, where the tequila bottle is ever in evidence and the gurgles of the pulque is never silent, to see what he can do toward reclaiming it. Which is a mild method of telling the man he may commit suicide, for when he tackles the combinations allied to and surrounds them as frequently as he is alleged to have wrapped himself around beer and booze in Alameda, his days will be numbered, although the same cannot be said of his snakes.—Watsonville Register.

ODD FADS OF COLLECTING

The colon who coined the trite but expressive phrase "There is no accounting for taste" might have applied his statement to fads with equal appropriateness. New fads are coming to light all the time. There is a young woman in Tioga who makes a specialty of saving slippers. She has a collection that certainly cannot be equaled in Philadelphia, and probably not anywhere. She has two trunks and three bureau drawers full of slippers—silk, leather, suede, black, tan, red, blue, gold, pumps, Oxford heel sandals; in short, every conceivable kind. The whole country is agreed upon the desirability of reviving the American merchant marine in the foreign trade, but very large proportion of the people are opposed to the payment of subsidies to a favored few out of the public treasury. The only way in which the merchant marine will ever be revived will be by permitting Americans to buy ships wherever they desire and to operate them with the fewest possible legal restrictions, —New Orleans Picayune.

AMERICANS IN CANADA

American farmers by the thousands are now pouring over the boundary into the Canadian West. According to a statement made by the Deputy Minister of Interior at Ottawa the invasion of Americans into Canada will total over 70,000 for the present year.

In the beginning of this across-boundary movement the newcomers were largely from the middle States, but this year they are coming in from almost every State in the Union. Not only are the numbers satisfactory to Canada, but the quality of the settlers is rather improving than otherwise. The story sent back by thousands of satisfied settlers is attracting multitudes of homeseekers from the South, and as the tide of immigration swells, so swells the chorus of Canadian shouters.

The report of the Immigration department, just issued, shows that 59,532 persons came from the United States during the last fiscal year ended March 31, exceeding even the number of arrivals from Great Britain. They were chiefly experienced agriculturists with plenty of capital. Practically, the official report says, 60,000 Americans entered Canada, and every man, woman and child possessed, on an average, $1000 in stock, cash and effects, meaning that they brought into this country nearly $60,000,000.

W. J. White, head of the Canadian immigration agencies in the United States, says that this year immigration from the United States has increased fully thirty per cent, and that next year he expects to see about 115,000 American settling in the Canadian West. Senator Oliver of Iowa, says: "The enterprising men who have made Iowa one of the greatest agricultural States in the Union, will help to build up Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba. ## Types of the Women You Meet The One Liked by Men

The man's woman is not always beautiful or even good looking. Indeed, she is often quite the reverse. Yet wherever she goes she is a general favorite with the opposite sex. She is absolutely natural. There are no airs and graces about her. She is just herself.

TOO MUCH DIGNITY A BORE. The woman who is always on her dignity with men is seldom very popular. On the other hand, although a few of them find her amusing for the time being.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

The clubwoman of Minnesota have a lively organ called The Countess. In an editorial it tells women what they must turn their hands to when all other sources of employment are closed to them: "If you can't practice medicine," runs the editorial, "if you can't be a druggist, if you can't be an undertaker, if you can't be a lawyer, if you can't succeed as a teacher, then you can't be a housekeeper, if you can't be a cook—if you fall in all of these things, why, you can be married and become a mother. You don't have to have a certificate for that, and no individual will officially inquire into your fitness. We, the people, take it for granted, and we insist on your liberty to bring up your children into the world in complete freedom from the law, to defective training or inadequate care, to moral obligation or economic dependence, to sorrow and shame and lifelong misery."

GIVEN SURPRISE. The friends of Mrs. William Olsen of 1715 Wood street, Atlanta, will regret to hear that she is seriously ill at the Methodist hospital, where she is to undergo an operation.

RAPIDLY RECOVERING. The many friends of Miss Laura Judge will be glad to hear of her rapid recovery from the operation for appendicitis. This is a free country."

Grabs Diminutive Male Who Stepped On Her Skirt; Would Make Him Pay; Takes His Hat, but Cruel Cop Interferes

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—A buxom woman of perhaps thirty years, brown-haired and wearing a silk gown that matched the blue of her eyes, started to alight from a north-bound Seventh avenue car at Thirty-sixth street, at 6 o'clock last night. There was a ripping sound as the little man stepped back, lifted his hat and said sheepishly: "Pardon me, madam."

A square foot of blue skirt remained on the car step.

"You clumsy lout!" she exclaimed, glaring at him. "This material cost me $2 a yard, and goodness knows how much to make. Now the dress is ruined. You must pay for it."

"But, madam," he began, trying to efface himself behind the car.

"No, you don't!" she cried, and grasping the 112-pound culprit by the coat collar she marched him to the Mills Hotel corner. When he tried again to escape she encircled his slim waist with her arms and held him close.

"Get me a policeman!" she screamed to the crowd. "Oh, you brats! Don't you dare strike me!"

It was an accident," said one man in the crowd. "She froze him with a glance. Let him go and I'll pay," said another.

"I won't let go the little man, as she held him tighter. "She's no lady!"

With that she struck him on the head and knocked off his derby. Next she landed on a couple of men who tried to tear the little fellow away. Patrolman Harry Bartell scattered the crowd but refused to arrest the little man because he hadn't seen the dress torn.

"Just like you horrible policemen," she complained. She grabbed the little man's hat as he broke away, but Bartell took it from her and returned it to the owner.

He darted into the Mills Hotel as if he feared she would pounce on him again. But she didn't. Saying, "My name? None of your business!" she bounced up the avenue as the crowd cheered.

Why Don't You Walk Well And Improve Your Looks?

That there is nothing beautiful about walking would be the verdict of the average onlooker watching the ordinary walk of today. Not one woman in a hundred walks well. To be strictly true, she probably walks very badly.

DID YOU EVER NOTICE IT?

If you do not believe it, take note the next time you are down street. If you do not see more queer walks, more ungainly, graceless, even vulgar walks than you ever saw before, your powers of observation need developing.

There is the woman who stoops until you think her twenty years older than she is and would never dream that the clothes that look so badly are handsome and costly.

Keep up your shoulders and straighten your back if you offend against every other rule in the walker's canon of beauty. Better swell our your chest like a pouter pigeon or an ugly man who has just received a compliment on his looks if you cannot remember not to stoop in any other way. The exaggeration soon corrects itself and a swelled chest means back straight and abdomen in.

"SLOMPING" IS AWKWARD AND LAZY.

Don't "slomp" as you walk. It makes you look lazy, awkward and lifeless. Tread alertly, even though your shoes feel bursting with feet and you are so tired you can hardly drag. It is no more restful to pull your feet along the ground than to step forth lightly, if not briskly.

Walk from your hips, but not with them. There are few walks so vulgar, especially in these days of evident fines, than swinging or wriggling hips. If that be your fault walk daily for an hour with a book on your head. Nothing will so quickly correct it. Persevere though the only book you own is a Webster's Unabridged and your skull is thin.

To walk well gracefully, therefore, to walk for beauty, hold the shoulders back and up, the chest out and the abdomen in.

This means that you can breathe clear down to your toes and improve your heart and color thereby. It means you are properly poised on the ball of the foot, so your step will be light and springy.

Not Enough Room for Perpendicular Hats in Street

Many women who dwell in Evanston, Illinois, are divinely tall and divinely fair. Innumerable trees shade the streets of that city. A dispatch from Evanston says the City Council has ordered that the limbs of all trees that extend over the sidewalks within eight feet of the sidewalk and all foliage overhanging within the same distance shall be lopped off ruthlessly.

"Make way for the ladies," cry the gallant city councilmen, and it is safe to bet they are all married men. The city's fair women, like their sisters all over the country, are wearing tall peach basket and Merry Widow hats, and they have complained bitterly that there is not room, perpendicularly, for them to pass along the streets. The limbs of the trees and the twigs interfere with the women's comfort, and hurt their pride. Knock their hats awry, so that they are busily asking each other: "Is my hat on straight?"

Sometimes an impudent overhanging branch has yanked off a particularly tall hat, although its owner had tried to keep it in place and balanced with a perfect attorney of hat pins. One such incident had particularly unhappy results, it is whispered.

Wife Cooked for Thirty Men, Sawed Wood, Loaded Grain, Butchered Hogs, Made Sausage, Hoed Potatoes, Milked Cows--Wants Divorce

SPOKANE, Wash.—Mrs. Maries Mann, wife of John Lester Mann, a bonanza wheat rancher in Spokane county, shows in her petition for divorce, filed in the Superior Court here, that the routine of four years of married life left no time for visiting relatives or neighbors, to say nothing of bridge, whist and music.

Mrs. Macmonnies, herself an artist of fame, obtained an amicable divorce from Frederick Macmonnies, the celebrated American sculptor, last November.

Mrs. Macmonnies and Mrs. Low are old friends; indeed, when Mrs. Low was alive the two families were intimate and sympathetic in their love of art and literature.

Low, an artist of varied accomplishments, was one of the first instructors in art of Macmonnies. The two congenial couples passed much time together.

This purpose was out of respect to my wife, who was a dear, close friend of Mrs. Macmonnies and for whose memory I wished to show all the respect a man can give to a beloved and loyal companion of more than thirty years.

No date for the wedding has been set.

It will be performed in France or America,

The Ideal Woman

Women Who Swindle Dress-makers Would Cheat in A Game of Solitaire, Pastor Asserts

CHICAGO.—The Rev. Percival H. Barker, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Maywood, preached on "The Ideal Woman," and 1000 men and women crowded the house of worship. The sermon, the first of a series of five on similar subjects, was prefaced by the announcement that answers to each of twenty letters he mailed to twenty men members of his congregation, containing a list of questions on "the ideal woman," had been received.

"What are some of the common faults of women you have met?" was the first question.

The second question reads: "What are the essential elements of character in your ideal of true womanhood?"

"I sent these letters out that you and I might know what outsiders think of our women," explained the pastor.

"Too much dress is one fault," said Dr. Barker. "Too frequently do we find a $10 hat on a 10-cent head. I might also add that the barbaric custom of wearing birds on hats is another evil. "Women are not careful enough in the choice of the companions and associates. Some of them are seen on the streets with young men of questionable character.

"Flirting is a too familiar mode of attracting attention. Thousands of girls flirt away their hearts so they are incapable of loving their husbands. Guard your name as you would a jewel. Go with the unclean and you will become unclean. The motto of the worldly woman is: 'The public be damned.' The motto of the good woman is: 'The public be respected.'

Some "don'ts" given by the pastor are: "Don't marry a man unless you love him. Love is like a wild vine that would cling alike to Corinthian pillars or rotten wood."

"Don't marry money. That is taking a man as a mortgage on property."

"Don't marry a man who says, 'If you don't become my wife I will commit suicide.' Let him do it if he will. He would cheat in a game of solitaire."

SENIOR HALL FOR CO-EDS PLANNED

U. C. Women Will Follow Example of Men in Class Customs

BERKELEY, Oct. 21.—Although it has been felt that the senior co-eds should have some tie to bind them together such as the men have in the senior elating, it has remained for the women of the class of 1910 to take decisive steps towards its realization. They have formulated definite plans for weekly meetings and have appointed a committee to delve into ways and means for the building of a hall for senior women.

The 1910 co-eds are a progressive bunch and already have shown that they do things rather than talk about them. Definite plans for the weekly meetings were adopted yesterday at a session presided over by Miss Bella Clark, second vice-president of the class. It was then decided to hold the meeting every Thursday evening from 7 until 8 o'clock, commencing with November 4, and for the present the meetings will be held in Hearst hall.

As soon as this was decided on the women at once plunged into a discussion of the feasibility of building hall for the last year women. There seemed to be a unanimity of feeling that such a structure is greatly needed and that it is time for the senior women of the class of 1910 to take the initiative, whereupon Miss Clark appointed the following as a committee on ways and means of building: Miss Marquette Ogden, chairman; Miss Ecco Kentner, Miss May McCabe, Miss Mary Ada Pence, Miss Clara Harryett, Miss Margaret Johnson, Miss Margaret Ilizer, Miss Bessie Goodwin and Miss Lella McElroy.

A committee to arrange for the first meeting, November 4, was appointed as follows: Miss Charlotte Biedenbach, Miss Mildred Ahlf, Miss Harriet Welch, Miss Barbara Reid, Miss Belle Gluckman and Miss Dorothy Moore.

It was also determined that the A. S. U. C. should enter into no contract with the University of Southern California for an inter-collegiate track meet.

BOATING GIVEN UP AS VARSITY SPORT

Associated Students Committee to Turn Equipment Over to Club

BERKELEY, Oct. 21.—The executive committee of the A. S. U. C. last night decided to withdraw its support from boating as a university sport, and to turn over the equipment to the Boating Club, which must show by December 1 a large enough membership to support boating in order to secure the university's equipment. The A. S. U. C. will then decide to turn the equipment over to the club.

The committee also decided to establish a racing table at the Hotel Caspian, commencing October 25, for the sake of a keeper. This arrangement restores the condition of affairs existing prior to October, 1906.

The president of the Glee Club, appeared before the committee and asked that the club be allowed to appear in public on certain dates, and also requested the committee's sanction for the club's Christmas trip through the southern part of the state. These requests were granted.

It was also determined that the A. S. U. C. should enter into no contract with the A. S. U. C. of the University of Southern California for an inter-collegiate track meet.

University announces rainfall for season

BERKELEY, Oct. 21.—According to a bulletin issued from the University this morning the rainfall for the twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m. today is .14 of an inch, making a total of .98 of an inch for the month. The fall for the season to date is 1.76 inches and the normal precipitation for the season to date is 1.87 inches.

THIRD ARREST FOR PEA POOL GAMBLING

BERKELEY, Oct. 21.—Following closely on the arrest and punishment of H. E. Lingerfeld and W. M. Parker, the California varsity pitcher, for playing pea pool for money in Brassfield's billiard place, E. F. Miller, a salesman, was arrested yesterday on similar charge and his ball fixed at $20. Chief Vollmer is determined that this city shall be free of gambling in any form.

A BIG NIGHT TONIGHT

Tonight has been set apart by the automobile show committee for a social night, and the record attendance of the week is expected. This is the night for which the exhibitors have been waiting and the most knowing of the salesmen at the various agencies will be on hand at the booths, for they will be dealing with people to whom the automobile has become not only a luxury, but a necessity. The evening will assume the proportions of a social function, if plans are carried out and as the show is the most elaborate and interesting ever attempted in the city the dealers are expecting big results in the way of sales and profits for all.

The big showroom was comfortably filled until late hour last night, and after the doors had closed many people were turned away disappointed because they had waited too long to take in this feature of the festival.

Several ingenious schemes have been introduced by the dealers to make plain the workings of their machines to the crowds around the booths. Electric motors have been attached to the running gear of some cars and with the wheels raised from the ground and the cogs to the mechanism removed, the demonstrators are ready to show just how "makes the wheel go round."

In another booth compressed air has been piped to the motors and the engines puff and chug away in realistic imitation of the way they act on the road when real gasoline is popping in the cylinders.

The election of the new editor, in accordance with the rules of the English Club, is subject to the club's ratification, and a meeting has been called for next Tuesday evening at the Chi Omega house to ratify the choice of the committee.

FIVE INJURED IN LAUNCH EXPLOSION

Pleasure Party Has Narrow Escape From Death
Off Vallejo

VALLEJO, Oct. 21.—Five persons were badly injured in an explosion of gasoline on board the launch Cazadero off Vallejo late last night. The injured are: A. A. Lindley, chief engineer of the Buffalo Brewing Company of Sacramento; Arthur Lindley, his son; Captain Wood Watson, Mrs. C. J. Mathews and C. J. Mathews, her husband, also of Sacramento.

All were badly burned about the head, arms and chest, but the injuries of Captain Watson are the most serious. All received minor injuries.

The launch, which is jointly owned by Colonel H. L. Seymour of Sacramento and several of the victims of the accident, took a pleasure party for a trip on the river, and through the straits. When off Vallejo a flareback from the engine ignited a quantity of waste gasoline in the bottom of the boat.

There was a flash of flame, followed by a great report, as the twenty-gallon gasoline tank carrying the main supply of the boat blew up. The entire cabin of the launch was blown overboard, and the passengers were covered with flaming gasoline. Captain Watson was converted into a human torch, and then was hurled overboard by the force of the explosion. He was rescued by the fellow passengers in an exhausted condition.

The injured persons were brought to shore by Paul Butler, who happened to be passing in another launch and saw the explosion.

AMATEUR HYPNOTIST ENTHRALLS COMRADE; CANNOT RELEASE HIM

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 21.—For fourteen hours Burton White, a freshman at the Connecticut State College, lay hypnotized, devoid of will power, absolutely under the control of John Bergensen, his classmate.

For almost fourteen hours Bergensen, an amateur in hypnotism, tried to bring White out of the hypnotic state and failed because he had not the power or did not know how.

Then a physician was called and with much difficulty restored White to his senses. He is 19 years old, a bright student, but for a while after he came to his mental powers were as feeble as those of a child of four.

EASTERN STAR TO CHOOSE MRS. BURNS

Los Angeles Woman Is Favored Candidate for Post of Grand Matron

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—From indications shown at yesterday's session of the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star, now in session in San Francisco, Mrs. Rose Burns of Los Angeles will undoubtedly be the successor of Annie M. Johnson, present incumbent of the office of Grand Matron. Miss Emily Ferguson, daughter of Phineas Ferguson of San Francisco, logical candidate for the office of Grand Patron, announced her candidacy yesterday for the post of Grand Matron, but it is understood that she will have to go on the waiting list. This will leave Mrs. Burns alone in the chair. Her delegates are unanimous in declaring they will support her for the position.

Phineas Ferguson will undoubtedly be chosen Grand Patron, as the present incumbent is from the South, and by the laws of the order the North is entitled to his successor. Ferguson is the only candidate.

At a meeting yesterday representatives of about thirty of the grand chapters of the general jurisdiction and Mrs. Mary E. Partidio of Oakdale, past president of the general grand chapter of the United States, were presented and accorded honors due their station.

San Diego is making a fight for the next session of the grand chapter, but San Francisco is opposing this movement for an effort to again secure the delegates.

AT LAST! HONEST MAN IS FINALLY FOUND

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Dileges should have lived in this age, and indeed in this city, and have sojourned here during Forts weeks for he would surely have discovered the "honest man" for whom he searched so long and whom he never met in his lifetime. Ancel M. Easton is the individual in question.

Some time before the Market street bank closed its doors, leaving depositors in a sad plight, regarding the possibility of recovering their coin. Easton, after a contract to deliver silver for a certain period for $2500 and was duly paid the money. Up to the time of the suspension of the institution he had furnished only $1000 worth and yesterday he petitioned the Superior Court to compel the Market Street Bank to institute proceedings against him for the $1500 which he owes, and which he believes should go to the depositors.

He has estimated that the plant can be erected for $600,000, which will be sufficiently large to supply the entire city with clear water.

Several Turns on the Portola Road Race Course to Be Seen From Grand Stands on Boulevard

MOTORING

RACING DRIVERS TO BE INSURED

The Man Behind the Gun Will Witness the Big Oakland Portola Road Race When the Crews of the Men of War Visit the Course on Saturday

By C. E. MOYES.

That the element of danger in a road race is recognized by the representative automobile agents in the state, is shown by the fact that the owners of cars entering the Oakland Portola road race are taking out insurance on the drivers. This is a new feature of the automobile racing game and will be the first time it has been in effect on the coast.

Most of the big insurance companies will make efforts to cover the drivers in the race and the owners of cars are taking advantage of the opportunity to guard against loss by accident during the four hours' duration with death by the gun.

A feature of the Portola celebration which will undoubtedly be greatly enjoyed by the sailors on the visiting warships is the announcement made yesterday by F. S. Sabine, of the race committee, to the effect that arrangements have been made whereby the sailors can view the big road race. "The crews of all of the men-of-war can enjoy the greatest S curve of the course. Besides nearly all can take their own launches and go from the ships to Fruitvale bridge from which place they will have only about one mile to go to the course. They will not have to go on the main thoroughfare and will therefore avoid most of the crowd of spectators at the race. It is expected that 3,000 sailors will take advantage of this plan and witness the big race."

GRAND STAND LOCATED AT INTERESTING POINT.

On the boulevard about a mile from the Court, Ingraham, A. C. Hull, of the Maxwell agency in this city, has built a grandstand from which one of the most interesting and instructing views of the great road race may be had. From this point may be seen the cars as they speed along a straightaway; then encounter one of what is termed by the racers, the "danger points," the most of the men-of-war can enjoy the greatest S curve of the course. Besides this great curve, which demands careful and judicious driving, two other turns are also to be made in the first section visible from the Maxwell grandstand. Mr. Hull, when asked as to his reason for selecting this spot said, "There are many who do not own cars and many who will feel that they cannot afford to take seats on the big grand stand, who are, nevertheless, motor car enthusiasts, and will wish to witness the event of the year on the Pacific Coast. Realizing this, and wishing to meet the demand and provide a place of safety for such spectators, I made a trip around the course, stopping at all the desirable places. From a carefully inspected point of view I selected this location, as it commands an unobstructed view for five miles or more, also comprising a number of the worst turns on the boulevard. The low rate of 50 cents a reserve seat was made to cover the bare expenses of the enterprise. I have engaged the services of the experts. From the way the tickets have been going I see my idea was not amiss, and I have therefore arranged that tickets for the stand may be secured as late as Saturday morning. I will have a representative stationed at the corner of Twelfth and Broadway from 6 o'clock to 8 o'clock on the morning of the 23d. From here those wishing to reach the stand have but to take the Hayward car and get off at the Gansberger tract. Here signs have been posted and it is less than a five-minutes' walk to the grand stand." Hull also arranged a large space for parking cars at the low sum of $2.00, no matter whether the car is a runabout or a seven-passenger, with every seat occupied.

SHOW BRINGS FORTH MANY PROSPECTS

All day long yesterday cars bearing the pennant of the Sacramento motorists were seen making their way through Oakland to San Francisco. They were in a hurry, too, for those who had not already reached the City of Festivity were anxious to get there before night. The reason of their haste is readily seen when it is taken into consideration that evening in the Automobile Show was opened out to them and they did credit to it, too, for there were several thousand in the Capital City, which largely augmented the attendance at the exhibition.

Nor was enthusiasm lacking. Each man came with words of praise and stories of tours and events, holding his own little court in the various booths as he looked over the 1910 cars. There was a splendid attendance at the show, as many who were down on Market street, to take part in the festivities found it most restful and entertaining to drift down into the Emporium, and the dealers report a number of prospects among those who "came and saw and were conquered."

This will be the second entry of Buick cars and in this will be recognized as among the fastest in the country, they promised to be close contestants for the racing honors. Frank Murray will drive the other Buick car.

INTERESTING ROAD CONDITIONS.

Roads leading out of San Francisco are already beginning to suffer from the inclement weather so much so that he the United States government authorities for the purchase of an official motor car for the use of the Honorable Joseph Cannon, speaker of the house. Many cars were inspected, tried out, and thoroughly investigated, when unanimous judgment was passed in favor of the purchase of a Studebaker. The car was secured and now "Uncle Joe" possesses two motor cars of this make, one of which is constantly in use in and around the nation's capital.

SEE CARS COMING AND GOING.

A grand stand that will be most inviting to many of those who will come to view the big road race on Saturday from an elevated standpoint is the Scenic Grand Stand. It is located on the main course, but in such a position that five miles of the Hayward boulevard as the cars approach and three miles of the San Leandro boulevard as they turn and take that direction, may be seen. Most of the clever driving will have to be done within this radius and good judgment of the cars as well as their speed may be obtained at this place. The roads, which are all reserved, are but 50 cents, which in itself is reasonable, besides the comfort and view afforded.

A man with tickets for this grand stand will be stationed at Twelfth and Broadway on the morning of the race. The tickets may also be procured at the cigar store of B. Bercerich, Twelfth and Broadway, the Hotel St. Marks, Twelfth and Franklin, and the Arcade Hotel.

BUICK RACER ATTRACTS CROWD.

The headquarters of Carl Christensen on Twelfth street, was the center of attraction yesterday along automobile row in this city. The magnet which drew the crowds of enthusiasts was the Buick race which is to take part in the big road race on Saturday. From the glimpse of the speedy car those who went stayed to study the strong little motor, and on one side was to be heard expressions of opinion most favorable to repetition in this city of some of the victories of the Buick in the East.

"We were not sure the railroad would get our racing car in time for the big contest," said Carl Christensen, "but the machine arrived all right. I went to the factory with Charles Howard, Coast representative of the Buick, for the purpose of getting one of the famous Buick racing cars, and although I had hard time getting it, I succeeded."

Christensen says, "I will drive the car myself and will go today to the course and begin practice."

This will be the second entry of Buick cars and in this will be recognized as among the fastest in the country, they promised to be close contestants for the racing honors. Frank Murray will drive the other Buick car.

INTERESTING ROAD CONDITIONS.

Roads leading out of San Francisco are already beginning to suffer from the inclement weather so much so that he between San Francisco and Redwood City the roads are actually in a dangerous condition and motorists, according to reports, are advised to drive their machines with great care between these two points, principally on account of the slippery condition of the highways.

The warning note was sounded yesterday by L. E. Fenton of Salinas, who drove up from his home town to attend the festivities in his Studebaker touring car. Together with members of his family he left Salinas at 2 o'clock in the morning. He came by way of San Juan, Gilroy, San Jose and Redwood City. Considerable care is necessary the entire run, says Fenton, but, between Salinas and Redwood City fairly good time may be made. This portion of the run, Fenton says, he made in three and one-half hours.

"From Redwood City to San Francisco we were compelled to travel very slowly," says Fenton. "The roads were just enough to make them disagreeably slippery and we had many little narrow escapes. Any one contemplating making the run would do well to approach San Juan by way of Dumbarton. The roads will be found in a little better condition that way."

"It's fortunate that the roads through that portion of the State cannot be put into a condition where danger in bad weather to motorists is at a minimum. The campaign for good roads could well afford to be shifted from other portions to immediately south of San Francisco. This winter, with the increased number of owners, may accomplish something in that line."

CHALMERS' OWNER MAKES GOOD TIME.

F. W. Miller of Santa Cruz arrived in the city last night, having driven his Chalmers-Detroit "50" up in four and one-half hours. This is considered remarkably good time, as there were five grown people in the party, with their baggage, weighing in all about 700 pounds. Mr. Miller drove over the Santa Cruz Mountains by way of Los Gatos and San Jose. This road, he says, is in very fine condition just now and much better than the Chittenden Cut Off. There is a stretch of ten miles on leaving Santa Cruz which might be improved, but after that one could not ask for a better road. There is no dust and it is as smooth as asphalt.

Mr. Miller and his party expect to repeat in this city of some of the victories of the Buick in the East. "We were not sure the railroad would get our racing car in time for the big contest," said Carl Christensen, "but the machine arrived all right. I went to the factory with Charles Howard, Coast representative of the Buick, for the purpose of getting one of the famous Buick racing cars, and although I had hard time getting it, I succeeded."

Roads leading out of San Francisco are already beginning to suffer from the inclement weather so much so that he tributors for the Pacific coast of Buicks and Oldsmobiles, is exhibiting a complete line of the 1910 products of those factories at their salesrooms, 523 to 533 Golden Gate avenue.

The Howard Automobile Company, together with several other automobile dealers, is not participating in the automobile show, preferring to use its own salesroom which is more commodious and spacious, and which, being beautifully and artistically decorated for the occasion with palms and the colors of the Portola festival, presents a most attractive appearance.

The big "Oldsmobile Limited" with its six-two-inch Jinchirk wheels, the innovation of the Olds factory which never fails to create interest everywhere it makes its appearance, is always the center of admiration.

The Howard Automobile Company is open evenings during the present week and those who fail to see the exhibit of Buicks and Oldsmobiles at their salesroom will miss an interesting feature of the week of carnival.

A. C. Wheelock, manager of the Fresno branch, who is now provided with two demonstrating cars, last week tried the Hudson out on the famous Lewis Hill and established a time record for the grade that will undoubtedly stand for sometime. The road up the hill is 4200 feet long and has a grade of from ten to twenty-five percent. It was negotiated in the time of two minutes and twenty seconds. Mr. Wheelock states that in the whole State there is not another place as ideally located for a hill climb as this one. Fifty thousand people could view the course from start to finish and the grade is such that there is no danger of accident. It would prove a test run and simple. All but the last few hundred yards can be made on the high road with a powerful car. Furthermore, the hill is always in good shape and a climb could be had at any time of the year.

There is now on exhibition in Fresno a Water Motor Fire Engine, which is a fire engine and hose cart in one. The engine throws two streams of water through an inch and a quarter hose, at the rate of 700 gallons a minute. It is nothing more or less than a 6-70 Thomas chassis on which is mounted a rotary pump in a special body. The machine is attracting great interest throughout the State. It is said that in every point it is superior to the horse-drawn steam engine. In an actual test, the machine ran two miles, laid a thousand feet of hose and was pumping water in 3½ minutes. Its cost, while seemingly higher than the steamer, is in reality much less as it does away with the steamer, hosecart, two drivers and five horses.

KETCHEL OFFERED BIG MONEY TO MEET LANGFORD

E. ZAMLOCK, captain of the San Leandro Maxwells.

MISSION CLUB OFFERS KETCHEL $10,000 TO FIGHT SAM LANGFORD

Match at Present Time, However, Seems Untimely; Wheelmen Club Announces Card for Next Tuesday Night

By EDDIE SMITH.

STANLEY Ketchel has been offered $10,000 for his end in a fight with Sam Langford by Sidney Hester of the Mission Athletic Club. Stanley has also been offered a match with Billy Papke for a percentage of the gate receipts which Papke says can be cut any way that the Michigan fighter may desire. Ketchel listens to the call of the matchmaker when he hears Langford's name, but whenever Papke is mentioned the lion has little to say. If it was left to a vote of the pugilistic fans whether Ketchel was to meet Papke or Langford there is not the slightest doubt but that the votes for the Langford match would run into greater numbers, and in his declaration that he believes the public wants a Langford match more than a fifth Papke meeting, Ketchel is no doubt right. Would a Langford match be a safe thing just at this time, however? Jack Johnson has come and conquered, but he leaves the State with the sport suffered come and conquered, but he leaves the State with the sport suffered a bad kink and with many people more than ever anxious to see him beaten.

FIGHTERS' DRAWING QUALITIES.

As to the people's wishes in wanting him beaten he has no regret, for half the secret of a fighter's drawing qualities lie in the fact that some of the people go to see him win and the others form a brigade that never misses a contest for fear the beating will come off and they will not be in on it. Jimmy Britt stood in that position and no greater money-maker than he. Ketchel is not the idea, however, that we wish to convey. The point is danger of another match wherein a colored fighter is to be one of the principles. There can be no denying that the great majority of the people are prejudiced against the colored fighter, and from the moment he puts his foot into the ring they are hoping that he will be beaten. In the case of last Saturday's contest more than half the people who fought their way into the Mission-street arena did so in the hope that Johnson would be beaten, and when we say more than half it would seem that the estimate would have been even more correct if we had said every man who did not have a bet on Johnson. Johnson fought a good, clean fight. He displayed great cleverness and not one transgression of the rules could be laid against him. For the sake of eliminating argument Johnson allowed Ketchel to stay a greater number of rounds than perhaps he figured. He fought for the moving pictures and finally when he had been pushed to the floor he pulled off a very clever trick to make Ketchel rush at him and when the lion made the attack he finished the fight.

COLOR MAKES DIFFERENCE.

Had a white champion pulled this same trick off the people would have lauded him for his craftiness, just the same as they used to hand it to Fitzsimmons when he would pull just such a stunt, but with the black man it is entirely different. The fans are over suspicious of the black boys and at this time it would seem a bad thing to bring about a Langford-Ketchel contest. Johnson has been accused of pulling Ketchel and yet he did just what he said he would do—won his fight in fifteen rounds. Johnson told no one that he would win less than fifteen and the fact that not one bet was recorded that Ketchel would stay 10 rounds indicates that he had not agreed to let the white man stay that long. Yet with the fight in mind as he said he would and the facts clear to everyone that the lion was not a better man with Johnson letting Ketchel stay a few rounds than he would have had Johnson finished the battle in the second round, when it certainly could not have been so far along as it was, he could, the cry of fake has been raised. It is not fair to our black brothers of the padded fists to treat them thusly but it is a fact just the same and it is with this realization that we fear a Langford match. It is not that the match would be a great drawing card, for no one connected with the card, nor anyone connected with the game would deny that, but it is simply a precaution against any further trouble. The calling off of the Langford contest at New York has also had its effect on the suspicious fans and it might be well for the promoters to guard against anything that might tend to put the spot on the bad. The fans will be prejudiced against the colored man and there is no getting away from that end of the affair and the best thing surely about the match would raise an awful fuss.

OAKLAND WHEELMEN SHOW. The Oakland Wheelmen have arranged an excellent program for their show to be held next week. Matchmaker Moxoff has signed one ten-round and four round events that look good.

In the ten-round event Monte Attell vs. Jimmy Carroll, the previous beaten weights of the weighty C. C. will again hook up in what should be a final struggle between these long-standing rivals. Attell is training as he has seldom done before, for he is exceedingly anxious to get rid of Carroll, and the little electrician is just as anxious to cop the title which has been placed on the head of the little fellow. Jimmy Carroll looks better and claims he is stronger than ever and he will enter the ring in far better condition than he did the last time he started here. Percy Cove and Al Eamond will meet in the six-round special event and the remainder of the card will be made up of the following well-known boxers: Tom Gandy vs. Jimmy Foley, Jimmy Flitton vs. W. Bright and Tony Dahl vs. Alex McDaniel.

FRAYNE-POWELL MATCH. With the try for the Frayne-Powell bout approaching the fans are beginning to take note of the lightweight group, and they are almost sure to prove one of the best cards offered the fans in a year. Powell has been in training at Moxoff's for the past two weeks and is already in the best of condition. Frayne has been located at Billy Shanahan's for the past week or ten days and when he steps into the ring he should be in the best condition of his career. Frayne has entirely recovered from the effects of the attack of the miasma that caused the postponement of the bout. The young Frayne has been negotiating with the Club of London to get a chance to witness the proposed fight and Jeffries is said to have received a tempting offer before leaving London.

Coulan Turns Down Offer To Fight Monte Attell

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Johnny Coulan yesterday received an offer of $1,500, win, lose or draw, to battle Monte Attell before the Mission Athletic Club at San Francisco November 18. D. E. Coulan, father of the boxer, turned down the offer, but wired that Johnny would fight Attell during the latter part of December. Johnny and his father leave for Pittsburgh today, whether he goes to fight young Ziringer tomorrow night.

ZYBESKO THROWS ALBERG. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 21.—In two straight falls Zybesko, champion wrestler of Europe, won a match from Karl Alberg, the French champion, last night. It was announced he thereby earned the right to meet Frank Gotch, champion of the world. Zybesko won the first fall with a head lock in 11 minutes and the second with a bar lock and crutch hold in 6 minutes and 10 seconds.

"Fake" Fight is Charge. CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Harry Forbes, former world's bantamweight champion, was arrested yesterday on an indictment charging him with defrauding $10,000. He was arrested in connection with a government investigation of alleged fake prizefights and rates at Omaha. Nearly 100 promoters and others have been indicted by the federal grand jury at Omaha. Forbes denies the charge.

Jeffries-Johnson Meeting Draws Eyes to New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Sporting men all over the country who are interested in the boxing game will have their eyes turned toward this city for the next few days, as it is easily expected that it will be definitely known whether Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson will fight on November 21. The fight has been arranged for the 10th round, and it is to be held at Madison Square Garden. The fight will be a definite attraction to the public, and the spectators will be greatly interested in the outcome of the fight.

HARRY FORBES UNABLE TO GIVE $5000 BAIL.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Harry Forbes, the former bantamweight and now in the Lawrence Forbes arrested yesterday on indictments returned by the Federal Grand Jury at Omaha in connection with a $500,000 swindle through the operation of his business, will be required to give bail of $5,000 each, after their arraignment before United States Commissioner Footh, and they will be returned to Omaha for trial. Forbes has turned to the solicitor of the feather-weight championship.

If it was left to a vote of the pugilistic fans whether Ketchel was to meet Papke or Langford there is not the slightest doubt but that the votes for the Langford match would run into greater numbers, and in his declaration that he believes the public wants a Langford match more than a fifth Papke meeting, Ketchel is no doubt right. Would a Langford match be a safe thing just at this time, however? Jack Johnson has come and conquered, but he leaves the State with the sport suffered come and conquered, but he leaves the State with the sport suffered a bad kink and with many people more than ever anxious to see him beaten.

FIGHTERS' DRAWING QUALITIES.

As to the people's wishes in wanting him beaten he has no regret, for half the secret of a fighter's drawing qualities lie in the fact that some of the people go to see him win and the others form a brigade that never misses a contest for fear the beating will come off and they will not be in on it. Jimmy Britt stood in that position and no greater money-maker than he. Ketchel is not the idea, however, that we wish to convey. The point is danger of another match wherein a colored fighter is to be one of the principles. There can be no denying that the great majority of the people are prejudiced against the colored fighter, and from the moment he puts his foot into the ring they are hoping that he will be beaten. In the case of last Saturday's contest more than half the people who fought their way into the Mission-street arena did so in the hope that Johnson would be beaten, and when we say more than half it would seem that the estimate would have been even more correct if we had said every man who did not have a bet on Johnson. Johnson fought a good, clean fight. He displayed great cleverness and not one transgression of the rules could be laid against him. For the sake of eliminating argument Johnson allowed Ketchel to stay a greater number of rounds than perhaps he figured. He fought for the moving pictures and finally when he had been pushed to the floor he pulled off a very clever trick to make Ketchel rush at him and when the lion made the attack he finished the fight.

COLOR MAKES DIFFERENCE.

Had a white champion pulled this same trick off the people would have lauded him for his craftiness, just the same as they used to hand it to Fitzsimmons when he would pull just such a stunt, but with the black man it is entirely different. The fans are over suspicious of the black boys and at this time it would seem a bad thing to bring about a Langford-Ketchel contest. Johnson has been accused of pulling Ketchel and yet he did just what he said he would do—won his fight in fifteen rounds. Johnson told no one that he would win less than fifteen and the fact that not one bet was recorded that Ketchel would stay 10 rounds indicates that he had not agreed to let the white man stay that long. Yet with the fight in mind as he said he would and the facts clear to everyone that the lion was not a better man with Johnson letting Ketchel stay a few rounds than he would have had Johnson finished the battle in the second round, when it certainly could not have been so far along as it was, he could, the cry of fake has been raised. It is not fair to our black brothers of the padded fists to treat them thusly but it is a fact just the same and it is with this realization that we fear a Langford match. It is not that the match would be a great drawing card, for no one connected with the card, nor anyone connected with the game would deny that, but it is simply a precaution against any further trouble. The calling off of the Langford contest at New York has also had its effect on the suspicious fans and it might be well for the promoters to guard against anything that might tend to put the spot on the bad. The fans will be prejudiced against the colored man and there is no getting away from that end of the affair and the best thing surely about the match would raise an awful fuss.

OAKLAND WHEELMEN SHOW. The Oakland Wheelmen have arranged an excellent program for their show to be held next week. Matchmaker Moxoff has signed one ten-round and four round events that look good.

In the ten-round event Monte Attell vs. Jimmy Carroll, the previous beaten weights of the weighty C. C. will again hook up in what should be a final struggle between these long-standing rivals. Attell is training as he has seldom done before, for he is exceedingly anxious to get rid of Carroll, and the little electrician is just as anxious to cop the title which has been placed on the head of the little fellow. Jimmy Carroll looks better and claims he is stronger than ever and he will enter the ring in far better condition than he did the last time he started here. Percy Cove and Al Eamond will meet in the six-round special event and the remainder of the card will be made up of the following well-known boxers: Tom Gandy vs. Jimmy Foley, Jimmy Flitton vs. W. Bright and Tony Dahl vs. Alex McDaniel.

FRAYNE-POWELL MATCH. With the try for the Frayne-Powell bout approaching the fans are beginning to take note of the lightweight group, and they are almost sure to prove one of the best cards offered the fans in a year. Powell has been in training at Moxoff's for the past two weeks and is already in the best of condition. Frayne has been located at Billy Shanahan's for the past week or ten days and when he steps into the ring he should be in the best condition of his career. Frayne has entirely recovered from the effects of the attack of the miasma that caused the postponement of the bout. The young Frayne has been negotiating with the Club of London to get a chance to witness the proposed fight and Jeffries is said to have received a tempting offer before leaving London.

DIES FROM HORSE'S KICK. MONROE, Oct. 21.—Body of Charles W. Clover, whose death in Fresno yesterday in his big racing automobile, Johnson says that he will leave in plenty of time to be on hand for the first meeting that Jeffries agreed to have and that his manager, George Little, will be on hand when Jeff steps off the ship. Johnson will not trust his manager to make the match, however, and the real meeting will be postponed until such time as Johnson arrives.

The County Scotch are the latest to recognize the merits of their product. Several months ago a traveler took his samples to Glasgow and the product of our soil, sunshine and vine tasted so good that French wines have been largely abandoned and this year an American wine from the Mendocino country was started on its way to Scotland. Of all the Alameda county wines the Glorssberger is recognized the leader.

Los Angeles Lacrosse Team Beaten by Olympics

The La Crosse players of the San Francisco Olympic Club demonstrated that they will bring a string of races horses to Emeryville, where they will take part in the competition November 20. Among the numbers will be Mary F. and several others that have won prominence on other tracks. Mary F. was recently sold for $3,000. Jenkins' bid was $2,500. Both now, it is declared, is much better than ever. A majority of the thoroughbred in Jenkins' stable has been resting on the same new "Woodland" diet. From here, where he shipped several blue-bloods to New York, all of them bringing higher prices than he has ever expected.

Jennings is one of the few turfmen who believe in a horse's running in races for the sport of it and not for the betting odds. His horses are always out to win, and followers of the turf always speak in highest terms of Jennings' clean sportsmanship.

Walter Jennings to Have Stable at Williams Park

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The coming of Sir Thomas Lipton to the United States has stirred up a deal of interest as to what measure of success the Irish baronet will have in his endeavors to bring about another race for the America's Cup.

Sir Thomas is expected here Saturday and will ascertain from members of the New York Yacht Club whether they will accept a challenge under the universal rules which now govern races held by the New York Yacht Club, or whether the club still insists that the cup contest must be held under the old conditions which permit the greatest maximum of speed upon a given water line length without other restrictions.

Sir Thomas holds that the old rule has resulted in the development of freaks of such clumsy construction that there is grave danger of the challenger going to pieces at sea while being brought to this country on her own bottom.

It was learned yesterday, however, that unless the present feeling among the more influential club members undergoes a change, Sir Thomas' visit is likely to bring him no pleasure, as the members of the club will be holding a meeting Saturday afternoon to decide whether to accept the challenge.

INSANE PATIENT FIRES BULLET INTO BRAIN

Days Self During Night-Is Found This Morning By Attendant

ACUTE MELANCHOLIA IS CAUSE OF RASH ACT

Edward Atwood, Former Insurance Man, Takes Life in Sanitarium

Edward D. Atwood, an insurance agent, who resides at 2267 Leighton street, with his wife and two daughters, took his own life yesterday morning by shooting himself in the head.

Atwood had been subject to extreme melancholia for the last six weeks. For four days prior to his death he had been confined in the Acme Sanitarium, but was discharged a few days ago as cured. On returning to Oakland he took up his residence at 479 Twenty-eighth street, which further hastened his suicidal condition.

Yesterday Atwood visited his wife and daughters, and enjoyed the day by meeting various of his friends. He returned to the sanitarium, however, and nothing was observed about him which would lead any one to suspect he contemplated taking his own life. He died early last night.

Just before he fired the fatal shot into his brain will never be known. No one about the sanitarium heard the shot. He was found dead about 10 o'clock this morning.

Chef Deputy Coroner Bert Sergeant was notified about noon of the tragedy and took charge of the remains. He ascertained that Atwood had been buying a first-class .32 calibre revolver.

The bullet entered the right side of the head near the temple. Death was apparently instantaneous.

Atwood had been employed as an agent by the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston. He had not, however, been working for the last several months.

The funeral will be announced later. The deceased was 47 years of age and was a native of Maine.

Hotel Robber Dies Of Fractured Skull

RENO, Oct. 21.—Early this morning the lone highwayman, who robbed the Vinton Hotel at Vinton, Cal., was found dead in a barn. His death is said to have been due to a fracture of the skull resulting from a blow with a pistol wielded by Robert Canonica, while the latter engaged the robber in one of the hotel rooms.

Bert Questa, the bartender, who was staying with the robber, probably with his Canonica and his father, who also were wounded, will recover.

The identity of the robber has not been established. He is said to have been working with a threshing machine near Vinton.

Clergy Must Stop Smoking, Say Women

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 21.—The use of tobacco apparently will be banned if the wives of the Woman's Board of Home Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church South are carried out by the General Conference. The question was a theme of a spirited debate at today's session of the Board.

GRAY DEPOSITS LARGE SUM WITH TREASURER

Attorney Bingham, representing former Public Administrator George Gray, paid into the State treasury in Sacramento his claim of $12,335.65 to be held to the credit of three estates which Gray is closing up.

These estates and the amounts credited to them are as follows: George Hite (wife), $10,000; Andrew, $1000, and Joseph Opano, $125.65.

The money, represented in the Cook and Arnold estates was received yesterday by Attorney W. S. Sturtevant. It is now being tried for the alleged embezzlement of the $10,000 in the Cook estate, and there is an indictment pending against him in the Arnold estate, which charges him with keeping it the sum represented in the above.

DROPS DEAD WHILE ENTERING HIS HOUSE

ELMHURST, Oct. 21.—Charles T. Pierce, formerly a resident of Elmhurst and Oakdale, dropped dead yesterday after entering his home in the Highgate Avenue. The cause of his death was a stroke of apoplexy. Recently Pierce, who was a 43-year-old painter came from Boston to make his home in Elmhurst with his wife and daughter. He had been in ill health for some time, and it is stated that he had several attacks prior to the fatal one.

Pierce is survived by his wife and daughter. No arrangements have as yet been made for the funeral.

DOG-TEAM RACES FOR $15,000 PURSE

Alaska's Greatest Sporting Event Promises to Attract Wide Attention Here

SEATTLE, Oct. 21.—Although a number of obstacles have been encountered to interfere with advance plans for the annual sweepstakes dog-team race at Nome for the coming winter, it is the opinion of Jake Berger that the difficulties will be overcome and the next event made an even more notable sporting event than that of last year. Mr. Berger, with a team of dogs valued at $10,000, won the first prize purse of $10,000, carried away honors of the second team, and won the first price of $1,000.

WILL ENTER BOTH TEAMS.

Mr. Berger proposes to enter both teams with which he took big winnings last year. He says that some changes in the outfitts have been made, but the team will be substantially the same. Berger has been careful throughout the year and believes that nothing can be assembled from all Alaska can keep him from being a winner.

The service of "Scooty" Allen, whose work as driver was an important factor with last year's races, have been retained by Mr. Berger to handle his entry for the next events.

BIG FUND FOR RACES.

Prior to the sailing of the steamer Seward on October 1, Berger came to Seattle from Nome, a fund of nearly $6000 having been assembled for the dog races. The showing is considered favorable for extending the fund to the amount of $15,000.

It was a part of the Berger winnings of last year was brought out from Nome and will be placed on exhibition in Seattle.

Detectives sought today to get some sort of statement from her, but the physician denied them admittance to the room.

Mrs. Staehle, the neighbor of Mrs. Anna Sims, the neighbor of Mrs. Staehle, who is held in jail in connection with the crime, still maintains that she knows nothing about it. She is to be arraigned today.

COMBINATION WHIST TO BE HELD MONDAY NIGHT

ALAMEDA, Oct. 21.—The combination whist party of Isle City Council, Young Ladies Institute, and California Council, Young Men's Institute, will be held Monday night at Lafayette hall. The tourney will probably be as largely attended as the last whist party given about a month ago.

The friends of the Institute turned out in large numbers for the first tournament given under the combined auspices of the two councils, and judging from the enthusiastic proclamations of the success and the general good time enjoyed, Monday night's whist will draw an equally large attendance.

The council is contemplating a the council for the near future. Plans are being discussed now for the affair.

ECUADOR AS PLACE FOR CONSUMPTIVES

Enjoys Certain Advantages But It Has Many Drawbacks, Writes Authority

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. — "Quito enjoys certain advantages for persons suffering from tuberculosis, but there are many disadvantages."

The above is the essence of the replies sent in response to inquiries by William C. Fox, the American Minister to Ecuador, whose legation at Quito has been flooded with requests for advice as to whether consumptives could go to that capital with prospects of improvement.

So many letters have been received, says Fox, in a report to the State Department, that it is impossible to answer them all. The reason for the inquiries is a recent publication referring favorably to Quito as a place beneficial to consumptives.

SOME DRAWBACKS.

The reply quoted above by Fox is, he says, the statement of one of the foremost physicians in Ecuador. The latter points out in detail what he regards as some of the disadvantages. On account of the altitude, 9600 feet, he declares the city is not suitable for advanced cases. The construction of the houses is such

RECIPE FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

Highly Recommended Prescription for Kidneys and Bladder.

Persons suffering from such symptoms as pain in the back, dizziness, frequent urination, and highly colored urine, soreness in the hip or groin, rheumatic pains in the joints or any other indications of kidney or bladder trouble would do well to make use of this treatment. Mix one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu, one-half ounce Matua compound with six ounces good pure gin and take three times a day after meals in doses of one to two drams each time. This is the most effective prescription known for kidney or bladder trouble. All the above ingredients can be bought separately and mixed at home by any good druggist can put up little salines.

Weak or disordered kidneys ought to have the most prompt attention, as neglect in this respect is apt to cause chronic rheumatism, Bright's disease or diabetes.

that it is extremely difficult to obtain sunny and airy living rooms and during the rainy season the weather is very chilly, with no stoves for heating purposes in the city.

Competent physicians, familiar with conditions in Quito and in the United States, Fox's informant says, are of the opinion that the climate and the conditions in certain parts of New Mexico and Arizona are better in tuberculous cases than in Quito.

C. R. Kluger, the Jeweler, 1060 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis Ind., writes: "I was weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy were taken daily. My backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all suffering from kidney trouble after the doctors and other remedies had failed." CHINN & BERETTA

Optical work that is backed by a reputation to be proud of.

—It is with pardonable pride that we point to our record in the city of Oakland during the past twenty years.

—We came when Oakland was only a good-sized town and we've remained to see it grow into a great city.

—The children of those we served at first are beginning to bring their children to us and we've spanned a generation, for we often hear it said: "Grandpa used to get his glasses here."

—Yes, we've a record we are proud of; we've hundreds of friends who came to us as strangers, who today are spreading information regarding the good work we've done for them.

—There is great satisfaction in giving such service and we attribute the whole success of our optical business to the care we've given to all our work.

—Your glasses must be absolutely right. So come here for them.

GOLD PLATED AUTOMOBILE

Of the Landauet Type

This is by far the handsomest automobile, in point of elegance, grace of lines and refinement, that has ever been seen on this coast. All metallic trimmings, both interior and exterior, are gold plated, giving the car a more striking appearance than any machine that has ever before been seen here.

This gold plated landauet is constructed on the latest chassis from the Studebaker factory, known as the "G-7." Every feature of this model is embodied in the car. Its interior finish is exquisite, being upholstered in the finest broadcloth of the covert shade, with beautiful designs of coach lacing.

The car is of "forty" horsepower, is electrically lighted, has cut glass dome lights and carries besides a prest-o-lite equipment.

If you want to see the most handsome automobile that was ever displayed in San Francisco or on this coast, you can see it at only one place--STUDEBAKER'S--to which place you are most cordially invited.
